THE LAST DAYS OF THE FAIR.

THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE EXHIBITION TO CLOSE THIS WEEK-THE HOMING PIGEONS TO BE SHOWN THE FIRST THREE DAYS.

Only six days more of the American Institute Fair. The exhibition will close on Saturday evening, after having rerelived the generous patronage of the public, as a testimonial of respect to the Institute for its integrity of purpose, justice in management and benefit to the industrial enter-prise of the United States. The attractions offered the sight-seer are, to a large degree, novel, and the story of the exhibition since its opening on October 1 is a pleasant one. The novelties in the mechanical department, especially in the woodworking machinery, are numerous, and the exhibits in all the other departments command interest and invite more than ordinary examination. There is always a large attendance on the last week of the Fair. The out-of-town folks all wake up to the necessity of coming down to the exhibition, and the city people are reminded that there is something yet to be seen, but a little time left in which to

As a special attraction this week the exhibition of carrier pigeons by the American Federation of Hon ring Pigeon Fanciers will be held to-morrow.

Tuesday and Wednesday. Among the entries of champion record birds are the famous long distance flyers Montgomery, Petroleum and Waxem, the first with a record of 1,001 miles in 1886 from Montgomery, Ala., to his home at Fall River, Mass., and the latter birds from Montgomery (Its Miss, to Nearth, N. J. Seculing, a record Mississippi City, Miss., to Newark, N. J., scoring a record of 1,003 miles, during the present year; Hanover, Jocko and Alexander the Great, with journeys of 500 miles in one day; Dandy Jim, the speedlest 400-mile flyer, and other noted birds will be in the cages. Among the exhibitors are J. R. Husson, of this city; Dr. H. F. Aten, F. H. Platt, J. H. Watjen, John Cadoo, John Ballard, C. H. Touack, George E. Smith, E. J. Archer, A. Schwenck, C. Deitrich, of Brooklyn; John Sheppard, James Work and Paul Krouse, of Philadelphia; Robert B. Caverly, of Washington; A. Florent, of Pitts-burg; H. J. Williams, of Providence; G-orge W. Robertson, of Peckskill, and W. B. Garrabrandts and George H. son, of Peekskill, and W. B. Garraorands and George II.

Bowerman, of Newark, will have a number of noted birds.

The meetings of the Federation will also be held at the Institute during the exhibition.

There will be no extra charge for the show of pigeons.

and the Institute will be open day and evening with ac ion to everything twenty-five cents.

A DESPERATE THIEF CAUGHT.

Detective-Sergeants Titus and McCarthy met John Reilly, alias Scarber, an ex-convict and desperate ruffign, at Avenue A and Fifty-second-st. on Thursday night and arrested him. He was kept locked up at Police Headquarters until yesterday, when he was ar-raigned in a police court on charges of theft and Reilly and a confederate went into Augustus Stillway's restaurant, at No. 201 Avenue A, on the afternoon of October 8 and ordered oysters. Stillway went to the rear of the restaurant to tell the cook of the order, and Reilly improved the opportunity to empty the money-drawer behind the counter. The confederate ran out, but Stillway caught Reilly at the door, and the two men had a struggle. Reilly drew a revolver and fired. The bullet entered Stillway's right side and l'odged in the muscles, causing him to let the thief go.

When Rellly was arrested a pawn ticket representing the revolver was found in his pocket. The weapon was recovered from the pawnshop, and the builet which was recovered from the pawnshop, and the builet which had been extracted from Stillway's side fitted it exactly. On Friday Stillway went to Police Headquarters and easily identified Reilly.

The detectives say that Reilly tried to rob a Chinaman years ago and cut the Chinaman's throat. For that crime he was sent to the penitentiary for five years. Later he was sent to Sing Sing prison for stealing a watch ard he was released only a month before he shot Stillway. He probably will be sent up the river for a much longer term for the attempt at murder.

Louis Fagan, of the British Museum, delivered his interesting and instructive lecture on "Etching, Rem-brandt, Meryon, Jaquemart, etc.," to a large audi-ence in the Lenox Lyceum last evening. The lect-ure was illustrated with excellent stereopticon views, which added much to Mr. Fagan's interesting descrip- | Fellow's subordinates who worked for Mr. Nicoli in his

TAMMANY WANTS THE PLACES. Judge Martine, District-Attorney Fellows, District-At torney-elect De Lancey Nicoll and Commissioner Thomas F, Gilroy had a long consultation in Mr. Fellows's office yesterday. It is understood that when they parted it had been decided that Tammany Hall wanted a clean sweep, or nearly one, of the District-Attorney's office on Jan
